

Licensing MacroPhone

Evaluation Mode and Licensing

If you want to use this program in your organization and if you have questions which this document does not answer, please feel free to contact m.goemmel@compulab.de

30 Days Evaluation (Trial)

MacroPhone offers a 30 days trial period through which you can use the program fully and which allows you to explore and evaluate its features and suitability. 10 days before the trial period expires, the MacroPhone clients will start to display a window to remind you that the trial period will expire soon. After 30 days plus a grace period (to allow time for delivery of the licenses) the MacroPhone server will cease to work.

License Model

Licensing is entirely server based, i.e. when you order or upgrade a license you only need to enter the license on the server machine and includes free updates with the same major version number (e.g. V4.xx) and support.

To reflect the different needs and budgets of small, medium sized and large organizations you can choose from a scaled license model.

| License Type | B-Channels () | Max. Clients () | Devices () | Mail merge fax () |
|---------------|----------------|-------------------|---------------|-----------------------|
| Home Office | 2 | 3 | 5 | no |
| Small Office | 2 | 10 | 10 | yes |
| Medium Office | 4 | 25 | 25 | yes |
| Pro Office | 8 | 50 | 50 | yes |
| Unlimited | unlimited | unlimited | unlimited | yes |

(*) B-Channels limits to the maximum number of active ISDN channels regardless of the number of technically available channels. For example a company with 4 ISDN channels might still purchase a Small Office version, if it is enough that MacroPhone only serves two connections at a time.

() Clients limits to the maximum number of active MacroPhone clients. This refers to the max. number of users in your organization that can connect to the server at the same time.

() The term "Devices" refers to telephone answering machines (voice mail) and fax reception and limits the maximum number of MSNs (phone numbers) to which you can assign voice mail and fax reception functions.

(*) "Mail merge fax" refers to the function to automatically send faxes using the "Embedding fax information into the document" and "Preset.ini control file" features, which are described in the document "Info about Installation".

Ordering

After you decided which of the licenses you need, you can just purchase it from one of our distributors. Please visit the ordering section on <http://www.emtec.com> for pricing, online shops and distributor addresses.

Minor Updates

The license includes free updates with the same major version (e.g. V4.xx) via download from our website. The new version can be installed on top of your existing version and will retain your configuration.

Upgrades

If you already own a license for MacroPhone and if you want to upgrade the license type (e.g. from “Small Office” to “Medium Office”) you can do so for the net price difference. Please contact one of our distributors (see order or contact page on <http://www.emtec.com>) with your current license details and they will arrange an upgrade.
